

Course Name

Oriental Studies

Level of study	Bachelor Degree/ Master Degree
Workload	ECTS: 3 Total Hours: Contact Hours: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Lectures: • Labs: • Seminars:
Course Code
Semester	Winter/Summer
Prerequisites	History
Course Objectives	The main target of the course is to offer modern conceptions on the history of Oriental civilizations in the Ancient and Mediaeval periods, their origin and features.
Learning Outcomes	You will be able to: discuss key basic theoretical and methodological problems of Oriental history; point main historical events and facts for Middle Asia, Far East in th Ancient and Medieval periods
Syllabus	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • The “Oriens” term in anthropology and history, distinction in subject. • People expansion and the Neolithic Revolution. • Ancient History and Ancient civilization re-construction. , Axis Age (Karl Jaspers): new religion and philosophy emergence (Taoism, Buddhism, Mazdaism, Judaism). • Irrigation systems in approaches for Oriental Studies. • Societies of Akkad, Babylon, Sumer, Egypt and China in Ancient and Mediaeval period . • Pax mongolica and it influence.