

International Scientific Conference "Radiation-thermal Effects and Processes in Inorganic Materials" with elements of the eponymous school-seminar of graduate students and young scientists

The Main Dates:

- Conference Dates are August 13-22, 2019
- Registration and abstract submission: October 20, 2018
- Paper Deadline is December 20, 2018

Dear Colleagues,

We invite to participate in the International Scientific Conference "Radiation-thermal Effects and Processes in Inorganic Materials" with elements of the eponymous school-seminar of graduate students and young scientists. The conference is to be held in Sevastopol, Russia.

Organizers: Tomsk Polytechnic University with the participation of Moscow Technological University and Sevastopol State University.

Conference participants should submit original papers that have theoretical and practical significance in the field of conference topics.

Topics:

- Physical and chemical phenomena in inorganic materials in radiation, electrical and thermal fields;
- Modification of structure and properties of inorganic materials by methods of radiation-thermal effects;
- Experimental methods of radiation-thermal processes in inorganic materials;
- Instrumental, technical and technological maintenance of radiation-thermal processes;
- Adjacent topics with the main conference issues.

Plenary and sectional oral presentations (including invited speakers) will be presented on the conference. The topical issues on contemporary problems of radiation physics and technology will be highlighted by guest speakers.

Participation form: full-time or distant.

Conference languages: Russian and English with simultaneous translation.

Personal invitations for participation and additional information about the conference will be sent out at the end of June 2019.

Attention! The Organizing Committee asks the participants who are leaving for the conference venue, fill registration form of full-time participant and send to e-mail: molod2016rtep@mail.ru.

The Organizing Committee asks participants to book the hotel in advance.

Registration form

Please, send the Registration Form containing information about the authors, report title and abstract no more than 1 page for the Conference program formation to e-mail: molod2016rtep@mail.ru until May 30, 2019.

Report Preparation

Please, send the Report according to Template.
