Dear participants of the International Scientific symposium!

On behalf of the deputies of the Legislative Duma of the Tomsk region we welcome you on the opening of the fourth Scientific forum in Tomsk, which brings together scientists and specialist working on the topic of well-being and improving the quality of human life.

In the Tomsk region, main resource of development and progress is a creative, healthy and free person. Human well-being is the ultimate goal of policy of the state.

Technological innovation in Tomsk region help us to increase life expectancy and improve health. Nowadays, the task of politicians and scientists is to provide these changes by social innovations that will increase well-being of older adults. Social innovations are considered as “life changing” innovations. We hope that the symposium will become a platform for the creation and discussion of new scientific solutions that will form the basis of social innovations which can make positive changes in the life of older generation.

Dear participants of the Scientific symposium! Wish you new ideas and projects, interesting presentations and productive discussions.

Sincerely yours,
The Chairperson
of The Legislative Duma
of Tomsk Region
O. Kozlovskaya
