

On the practical significance of “Writing for Publication” course

Speaker: Maxim Piskunov, PhD Student

Obvious relevance

What is the target audience?

- TPU scientists who want to share results of their research with international scientific community.

This is definitely a good desire!

Advantages of the course

- Only two teachers... It was beneficial.
- The structure of each lesson was perfect.
- There is a possibility to discuss some questions with groupmates and teacher. During such discussions, we were able to understand a point of interest.
- Discussion of the structural peculiarities of a research article.

Advantages of the course

- The teachers provided us with the necessary handouts, e.g. texts, lists of phrases, various sentences, etc.
- After we completed a particular part of our articles, we had an individual tutorial.

The most interesting and important is...

...submission of the paper to the International Journal of Heat and Mass Transfer (IF=2.383). The current status is under review.

Thank you for attention!
